Baptist Intermediates Enjoy Picnic Style Dinner Painting, Tributes Honor Rev. Tate

Families and friends of the Intermediate Department of the Pacolet Mills Baptist Church were invited to a get-together dinner on the church grounds on Intermediate Day, the last Sunday in April. Mrs. J. B. Weeks, superintendent of the department, and her teachers were gracious hostesses to the large group attending the picnic dinner.

Mrs. Danner Honored As Clemson Mother

On the first Sunday in May, Rev. Tate, pastor of the Pacolet Mills Baptist Church, was invited to the Intermediate Department where a program was given in his honor. Many tributes were paid Rev. Tate for a quarter century of unselfish work among us and a beautiful painting of Christ was unveiled and dedicated to him. Mrs. Tate, as a token of appreciation, was presented a lovely bouquet. (Two of the tributes to Rev. Tate are published below.)

PREACHER TATE

Preacher Tate is the preacher at the Baptist Church. He has been many places in the world. He has a very pretty house. Lots of the people in Pacolet Mills like him; I do. His house is the big brown one near Leo Kirby's filling station. Preacher Tate is a good preacher, and he has lived here for many years. He always has a friendly word and I don't believe I have ever seen him when he wasn't happy. He lives beside Preacher Gregory, who also is a good preacher. — Billy Mason.

REVEREND W. T. TATE

Reverend Tate is one of Pacolet Mills' outstanding citizens. He is pastor of the Pacolet Mills Baptist Church and a very kind Christian gentleman. Reverend Tate has been here a number of years and I think Pacolet Mills has been made a better place by his being here. He and his family moved to Pacolet Mills when the children were small and all of them climbed the old hill to our school. Miss Margaret Tate is our lunch room supervisor; now and a very good one, too. The Tate family has contributed a lot toward making our community better. — Jackie Hodge.

YOUR JOB

Wherever you're working, in office or shop
And however far you may be from the top,
And though you may think you're just treading the mill,
Don't ever belittle the job that you fill;
For however little your job may appear,
You're just as important as some big gear
That meshes with others in some big machine
That helps keep it going though never is seen.

They could do without you, we'll have to admit
But business keeps on even when the big fellows quit!
And always remember, my lad, if you can,
The job's more important—(oh, yes)—than the man!
So if it's your hope to stay off the shelf,
Think more of the job than you do of yourself.

Your job is important; don't think it is not,
So try hard to give it the best that you've got!
And don't think ever you're of little account,
Remember, you're part of the total amount,
If they didn't need you, you wouldn't be there,
So, always, my lad keep your chin in the air.
A digger of ditches, mechanic or clerk—
Think well of Your Company, Yourself, and Your Work!

MRS. OSCAR F. DANNER

Mother's Day at Clemson College is one of the outstanding events of the college year. On that day only parents are allowed to visit all through the barracks and all the students must be on the campus for the greeting of the parents and relatives and the program prepared in their honor.

Mrs. Oscar F. Danner of Jonesville was selected as "Clemson Mother of the Year." Mrs. Danner is the mother of Lt. F. W. Danner of Clemson's Class of 1949 and who was killed in action April 1, 1951, in Korea. Another son, Bobby, is a senior at the school and will graduate this year at commencement exercises in June.

Mrs. Mickey Fleming Danner accompanied her mother-in-law to Clemson for the ceremonies.

Gerald Pugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Pugh, were married on May 17th.

Perfect Pupil

OLEMA HENDERSON

No hooky playing, not even sickness has kept this 13 year old student away from school during the whole of her 7 years while attending Beaver Dam Grammar School. She has established a record very few pupils anywhere ever equal — a perfect record of attendance from her first through seventh grade. Olema's mother, Mrs. Nancy Henderson, works on the second shift at Spinning No. 5.

Here is the sequel to the story of Claude Tollison's new glasses. On Thursdays he says she leaves them off entirely and then he can't see the people he owes.

Miss Margie Pressly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pressly, and Otis Gault of Route 5, were married in May. We didn't get any particulars of the marriage except the brief notice.

MEMORABLE ACTIVITIES FILL CLOSING DAYS OF PHS 1951-52 SESSION

What every girl should know is how to cook, and here going through some of the basic requirements in learning are groups of PHS girls who illustrate Betty Jean Lee's story, "We Learn To Cook." Nancy Yount, Frances Burns, Betty Winstead and Shirley Willis study in class and look over recipe files in the first group on the left. Second from left, the preparation of food, measuring ingredients, and mixing together is being done by Shirley Fowler, Peggy Fowler, Jo Ann Allen and Myra Allen. The "whatever is being baked" is put in the oven by Janice Kirby and Martha Walden in the second photo to the right. Finally, on the right the inevitable dishwashing is being capably handled by Yvonne Brown and Frankie Corn.

We Learn To Cook

BY BETTY JEAN LEE

They say it takes as much artistic ability of its kind to become a good cook as it does to paint a picture. When you're learning, it certainly takes lots of hard work and concentration to be able to turn out a good meal, and after you know all the tricks, it still takes a lot of hard work! Here is a brief outline of how we go about learning to cook at Pacolet high school.

This year we decided that we needed aprons for our laboratory work in foods, so while we were sewing we made aprons to be used later in the kitchen.

First we began by studying the BASIC SEVEN. What is the Basic Seven? It is a plan for eating, worked out by nutrition experts, showing what the family needs each day to maintain a well-balanced diet. (If you don't want to be puny, eat the following every day: 1, meat or meat substitute; 2, fruit or juice; 3, green and yellow vegetables; 4, enriched or whole wheat bread; 5, tomatoes and other vegetables; 6, an egg; 7, milk and its products — 1 qt. for children, 1 pt. for adults. We also get inside information on what ails us when we don't get our vitamins and minerals. We learn to plan well-balanced meals, learn food combinations, color combinations of these foods, and study buying of foods. We begin to collect recipes to be used later on, and each girl has her own recipe file. After this, we study methods of dishwashing — Goodness, many of us have had lots of experience at this, but we find better methods of doing it here.

We study methods of table setting and arrangement. Each girl brushes up on her table manners. This year we made some posters for the lunchroom giving tips on table manners.

Now that we are ready to begin to cook, shall we cook lunch? Since a good plan every time makes everything turn out better, we spend almost as much time planning as we do in actual cooking practice. The members of the class divide up into family groups of 6. Each family has a foreman, maid, dish washer, hostess, cook, etc. Some girls do more than one job and the jobs rotate each time we cook. The group plans a well balanced diet for one day, keeping the Basic Seven in mind, and makes plans for preparing the luncheon menu. After planning the menu, we make a list of all the jobs to be done and each girl gets a job. We make out a market order for everything we need in cooking our meal.

Now to the kitchen! Each girl knows her job, has her own recipes, has her own clean apron and hair net, and goes straight to work when she first goes into the Home Economics room. The meal is supposed to be ready in a certain time, and it usually is. There is one unusual thing about the meals that we cook: we always eat them, without making a face, whether or not they're good.

After eating this meal, practicing our good-table manners while eating, we clean up the dining room and kitchen. We spend part of the period next day evaluating our lab period. Each girl grades herself on her work, including work habits, manners, preparation of food, and many other things.

What we learn in school is carried over to our homes. We all practice on our families, and quite often take a "home project" to work out ways of helping with the cooking at home.

We are very glad to announce that the stone wall that washed out at No. 3 Mill has been rebuilt in fine shape. They gave us a hard time while the wall was down and the work going on, but everything seems to get straightened out if we just have patience to wait it out.

We were privileged to be a guest at the Ladies Night banquet of the Ruritan Club on May 12th. The dinner was held at the Welcome In Grill at Union, and was a very enjoyable occasion. A number of high school students entertained the group with special numbers, and Mr. Martin, from the Soil Conservation office, made a most interesting talk. Two points Mr. Martin discussed impressed us as being worth remembering. He said this area was ideal for raising Pimentos commercially and also of raising fall tomatoes for the market. It seems they are beginning to develop these two crops as farm money crops that will add greatly to the farm income.

The Second Team, managed by Bynum Tessner, has gotten into full swing. If they continue at the pace set in previous years, we know that they will have a successful team this season.

Open House Party Held At New Lab

We were fortunate to be invited to the open house party recently at the Laboratory, which is on the first floor of Mill No. 5.

It is a beautiful room finished in two shades of green with in-laid linoleum and the counters are covered with plastic.

Of course they have mysterious gadgets and machines that we wouldn't know even how to call by name but they look very impressive.

The Research Laboratory is under the Standards Department and David Walker is in charge. Working under him are Mickey Danner and J. C. Arnold.

The office was decorated with yellow tulips and a potted azalea which was presented to the hostess, Mickey, by Foye Baker, her next door neighbor.

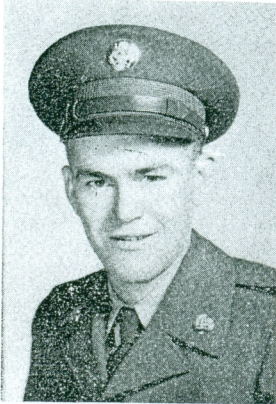

Punch was served from a crystal bowl with a border decoration of iris, and placed on the desk which had a yellow cover (some of our own cloth).

Sandwiches and cakes and mints were served, and Mickey was assisted by Mildred White and Peggy Goforth.

It was a very gracious and lovely party and besides getting to see the new office, the fellowship of workers in various departments makes for a fine spirit in our entire mill family.

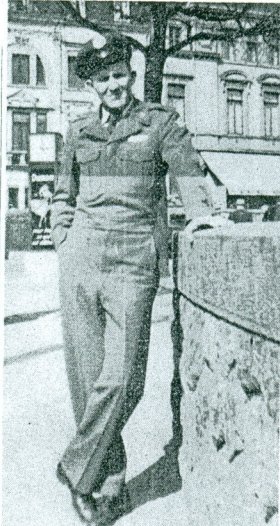

pression of the affection the other workers have for her.

Pvt. Steadings is with Co. D 39th Infantry Regiment, stationed at Fort Dix, New Jersey. He is the son of Mrs. Phoner Steadings (an employee of Mill No. 5) and the late Grady Steadings of Pacolet.

CPL. ROBERT PHILLIPS

Cpl. Phillips, stationed in France, says he is having fun and seeing a lot of the country. He has visited all of the surrounding country and this picture was taken at Luxembourg, Germany, during a visit there in May.

JESSE TATE

Jesse, serving aboard the U.S.S. Valley Forge, is the son of Wilma Tate Crawford.

PVT. F/C CLIFF H. BURNS
PVT. CARL WALL FR

Serviceman Burns (left) is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Burns of Pacolet, Route 1. Serviceman Wall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wall. Both are in the U. S. Air Force.

Ned Holmes, on the U.S.S. Block Island, spent three months in Cuba and Jamaica, touched Puerto Rico and is now enroute home. He has made Machinist Mate 3rd class, which took a lot of hard work. Ned says all of his buddies read the home news and it makes him very popular to be getting all of this mail from the home town.

Preston Goforth, who has been stationed at Ft. Jackson has been transferred to Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

Roger Freeman came by to call and he looks wonderful. The Navy must treat its men fine for them to look so healthy when they come home. Roger says the paper and news letter are life savers to the boys away from home.

Roger Wells sends in his new address. He is at Ft. Hood, Texas. Says it's so far out in the country he never gets into a town, but did see a rodeo. Said a man was supposed to ride a Texas steer and when the gate opened the steer rushed in—but no man, and finally he came staggering out. He had been thrown before he even got through the gate. Roger also met a boy who was with him in Korea. We were able to give him the addresses of Billy Genoble and William Johnson who are also at Ft. Hood.

Walter Harvey Writes from San Diego where he is in training at the Naval Base there. He is working hard but enjoying the work. Says they have a work day from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m., but says it does not give them much time to be homesick. The paper and news letter means to much to these boys. Walter says he didn't always read it at home but now he doesn't miss a word.

Charles Lee is in Labrador. It must be a dreary place to be. Had to look it up on the map to get it in mind. They are building a tent city at an Air Base, and he doesn't envy at all the men who will occupy the city. Charles is a construction engineer.

Ned Smith writes from Keiser A.F.B. He is enjoying the service and has made A 2/c. That is new lingo for corporal, and now he is trying for sergeant. Ned is in the Food Service Dept., and has had special training in preparing and serving food.

Robert Martin writes that he was on the U.S.S. Baltimore in the convoy in which the Hobson sank. He has been to Gibraltar and sent us a most interesting description of the big rock and its history through the ages. Robert is learning the barber's trade while in service and likes it very much. Says he will be in charge of the crew barber shop when they open it soon. He is seeing many foreign countries and enjoying it all. He also sent a copy of the ship's newspaper and it is amazing how all of the important news is condensed and given to them so they can keep up with what is happening in the world.

Walter (Billy) Smith is one of our new soldiers. Had a letter from him at Fort Jackson asking that we put him on our mailing list, and of course we are happy to do it.

We get letters and hear news from our boys away from home and think we might dedicate a column to them. Any piece of news of interest that others may get will be welcomed for this page.

Gene Loving arrived May 7th on a 30-day leave. His ship is the U.S.S. Twining. Gene is looking fine and it's good to see him home.

Methodist Guild Sponsors Banquet

The members of the Wesleyan Service Guild sponsored a unique Mother and Daughter Banquet on May 10th at Victor Inn. A program of songs, music and reminiscences by both mothers and daughters was very entertaining.

The place cards used for seating arrangement were original and interesting, to say the least. In a lace framework were old time pictures of the mothers to mark the daughters' places and of the daughters to mark the seats for

Conversational Topics

When Leecia Whitlock McClure went to the hospital, David wasn't here so Jim Mott took her in and faithfully walked the floor until the little one arrived. A few days later Thelma Whitlock Motts went to the hospital and Jim was again walking the floor and waiting. One of the nurses said, "See here, Mitter, weren't you up here last week walking the floor?" Jim told her, "Aw, go on, that was my aunt last week", and she said, "Well, it didn't look like an aunt to me", and since then Jim has had to hear a lot about his double duty.

Paul Robinette, who is a Junior at Clemson, took part in a public speaking contest there and at the last hearing made the finals, but in a student body the size of Clemson we feel that he is making a fine showing and we are all very proud of him.

Shirley Wells is graduating from Columbia College and already has her work lined up for next year. She will teach at Woodruff, replacing Frances Lancaster Pearson, who is taking a leave of absence.

Mrs. Alva Goforth also wants to say Thanks a Million for the wonderful luncheon and surprise party given by the Weave Room at No. 3. The gifts, which were tokens of the love they all felt for her, made Mrs. Goforth's retirement an event she will always remember with pleasure.

Mr. Guy Sullivan and children express their deepest thanks to their many friends for their great kindness at the time of the last illness of Mrs. Anna Mae Sullivan. The flowers and calls and expressions of sympathy have the mothers. A considered opinion — probably unanimous if vote had been taken, was that everyone at the party had improved greatly with age. Mrs. Mattie Kirby was proud of one thing in her old picture — she had a most sylphlike waistline which has gotten lost with the years. Those who had pictures that were made when the skirt was above the knees was popular were amazed at the knobby knees some of them displayed in the name of style.

All in all, the occasion was pronounced a most enjoyable affair—one where it was good to get together and have a good laugh with friends.

We are sorry to learn that Robert Rector, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rector is ill with typhoid fever, but he is reported in good condition. All of the children who attended his school are being given Typhoid vaccine.

Mrs. Lucille Mann left on May 13 to join her husband, Arthur Mann, in Missouri. Arthur is farming there with his people. We are sorry to lose Lucille but know she wants to be with her husband.
