

Pacolet Veterans

This list is an attempt to compile the names of all the Pacolet area veterans. It is not complete and due to its nature it probably never will be. Presently, there are almost 600 names on the list. This is a huge number considering the population of Pacolet. As you can see, the list is not in alphabetical order.

This is an important and worthy task. The men and women on this list gave a large part of their youth to protect our country. Some on this list gave their lives. Their names should never be forgotten by the Pacolet community.

The list includes people who lived in and around Pacolet. It also includes those that attended Pacolet High School but might have actually lived in a nearby community such as Glendale. It is intended that the list contain the name of everyone who ever served, in the past or at present.

The starting point for making the list was the article in Volume II of The History of Pacolet that gave names of some Pacolet veterans. This list was mostly WWII and Korean veterans. It was not complete but was a good beginning. Changes or additions to this list are shown in red.

The next source was from the community newspaper, The Neigh. Almost every copy of the paper, starting with those in 1950, gave information and often photos, about Pacolet men in service. Copies of the paper, up through 1952, were reviewed for servicemen's names. Presently, 1952 is the last year I had available. Eventually, other issues will be reviewed for additions to the list.

Finally, personal memories and recollections of friends and family furnished many names.

It is certain that many names are missing from the list. It is almost a certainty that many people are listed more than once with different first names. Pacolet's use of nicknames and "Jim", "Jack", "Bob" "Bill", etc. sometimes made it confusing as to the true identity of the servicemen.

We ask that you please furnish us any names that you know to be missing or that are incorrect or duplicated on the list. Send information to gteaster@pacoletmemories.com.
